WIFE SEARCHES FOR HER MISSING HUSBAND

Seeks Man Who Had Been Kind
to Her.

Readjustment, necessary as it is, entails many a tragedy. Yesterday a nicely-dressed woman approached the employment office of a company which has been employing men recently and inquired if William Jones was working there. That wasn't his name, but she requested that his real identity be kept secret until she has completed her search. She told her story in a voice that was husky with emotion. She said, "Bill and I were married thirteen years ago and we have been happy and he has treated me as kindly as one could. He was always very industrious. Some time ago we moved to Columbus and Bill started working for a firm as a punch press operator. He very seldom missed work and he was employed there until seven months ago, when owing to lack of orders the company shut down.

"While Bill was home he did all of the hard part of the housework and many a time has done all the marketing. At different times Bill wanted to go to different towns where there was supposed to be work, but I never let him, as I couldn't bear to be alone at night. About four weeks ago last Saturday night Bill announced for the tenth time that he was going to see his father, who lived in a town about thirty miles east of Columbus, on the Ohio Electric. The next morning he did go and seemed to be in the best of spirits. He said good-by and said that he would be back that night. I have heard nothing from him since."

AMERICA AGAIN TAKES THE LEAD

Suggests Subjects for Armament-Limitation Meet.

PROPOSAL SENT TO INTERESTED POWERS.

Possibility of Agreement on Limitation of Armament Enhanced by Americans.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The American government again has taken the initiative in the armament negotiations by suggesting to the other powers a tentative list of subjects for discussion at the coming conference here.

The proposal as forwarded to the foreign capitals for consideration does not go to the length, however, of enumerating all the specific controversies which this government considers pertinent to the armament discussion. It is confined rather to a grouping of broad questions of policy without any attempt to speculate as to what particular cases may arise under them.

So far none of the invited nations has replied formally to the suggestion, but officials are understood to have received encouraging reports of the reception of the list abroad. It was drawn up on the basis of extensive informal exchanges of views among the interested governments.

By the device of avoiding mention of specific controversial cases, officials are understood to feel that the possibility of an agreement on scope and limitation will be greatly enhanced. Thus in the case of China, the American suggestion is understood to be that the integrity of China be included in the list of eligible subjects, leaving the trend of the discussion to develop whether the conference will be led under that heading into a consideration of such cases as Shantung.

Such a plan is in keeping with the oft-stated purpose of the American government to keep the drop of the conference as broad as possible and thus forestall the possibility that one of the participants might tie its hands in advance of the conference in regard to specific controversial cases.

It is argued also that the scheme of permitting the conference to develop its own scope has a peculiar adaptability to the far eastern situation, where several important questions now are under negotiation and may be settled before the delegates assemble here Nov. 11.

Here's Harding Front Porch Quilt of King's Daughters

The "Harding Front Porch" quilt of the King's Daughters is now on exhibition in a window in the Usher-Phillips store.

The signatures of President and Mrs. Harding and many of their notable visitors during the presidential campaign of a year ago, as well as other well-known and prominent people over the country are outlined in black on a background of white. These blocks of white are set together with deep pink, forming a most attractive design. The coverlet is made of cotton material and is quite large.

Bids are being received and it will be sold to the highest bidder. The proceeds derived from the sale will go toward a fund to furnish a charity ward in the City hospital.

Many of the signatures appearing on the quilt were secured for the circle by Mrs. Harding from visitors during the campaign and others were written for, those asked gladly giving their signatures.

At the time the quilt was started Woodrow Wilson was president of the United States, Senator Harding, president-elect, and William H. Taft, the only living ex-president. Each of these men wrote their names up on one of the little blocks, as did also Calvin Coolidge, who is now vice president. Mr. Taft is now chief justice of the supreme court.

The other names on the quilt are those of Florence King Harding, Grace Coolidge, Edith Bolling Wilson, Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce; John W. Weeks, secretary of war; Will C. Hays, postmaster general; Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general; Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state and member of the peace commission; Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture; Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy; Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior; James J. Davis, secretary of labor; Andrew J. Mellon, secretary of the treasury; Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy; William Jennings Bryan, Colonel George Harvey, ambassador to Eng-

HOUSE IDEAS ARE MODIFIED

Senate Finance Committee Gives Its Decisions.

IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE IN MEASURE

Levies Restored on Toilet Articles and Proprietary Medicines by Committee.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Many house proposals for tax changes were rejected or sharply modified by the senate finance committee, at its session here.

While agreeing to the house plan to repeal stamp taxes on perfumes, cosmetics, toilet preparations and proprietary medicines, the committee voted to impose a manufacturers' tax of 4 per cent on toilet articles and 2 per cent on proprietary medicines and to restore the 3 per cent tax on toilet soaps and powders which the house bill proposed to repeal.

Five per cent reductions in the taxes on fur articles, motorboats and yachts, portable electric fans, and works of art agreed upon by the house were disapproved by the committee, which voted to continue the present rate of 10 per cent in each case.

The most far-reaching decision of the committee was that to restore all transportation taxes, but with those on freight, passenger and Pullman accommodations in force only for 1922 and at half the present rates. The house bill provided for the repeal of all these levies Jan. 1.

The section of the house bill reducing the tax on candy from 5 per cent to 3 per cent was amended to provide that candy sold at wholesale for more than 40 cents a pound should bear a tax of 10 per cent.

In adopting the house reduction from 10 per cent to 5 per cent in the tax on sporting goods, the committee decided to make taxable skates, snowshoes, skis, toboggans and baseball, football and basketball equipment, which were eliminated by the house.

Action of the senate committee in voting to recommend restoration of the transportation taxes and levies was taken despite assurances from Secretary Mellon and Director of the Budget Dawes that the $430,000,000 reduction in government expenditures agreed upon at the white house conference last month would be effected. Senators said they wanted a wider margin between the government income and outgo than would be provided if the house changes in the present law had been accepted.

REDUCTION IN THE SIZE OF THE ARMY

All Branches To Be Affected by an Order Issued.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Important changes involving considerable reductions in the size of all branches of the army have been ordered by the general staff with the approval of Secretary Weeks in placing the army on a basis of 150,000 enlisted men, it was learned today. The changes involve not only reductions in the units, but a redistribution of troops throughout the United States and its possessions.

Infantry regiments have been ordered reduced in strength from 1430 to 1212 men and in number from sixty-five to forty-five cavalry regiments from 815 to 641 men and from seventeen to fourteen in number. Field artillery regiments from thirty-three to sixteen in number. Artillery regiments from thirteen to seven in number without reduction of strength; coast artillery, railway and tractor regiments from 1068 to 829 and 729 men, respectively, and the latter in number from seven to two.

The number of men allotted to each branch is 58,309 for the infantry; 11,164 cavalry, 19,174 field artillery; 13,110 coast artillery, 10,200 air service, 6,519 engineers, 3,000 signal corps, 11,200 quartermaster corps; 189 finance department; 2,795 ordnance department, 775 chemical warfare service, 6,543 detached enlisted men and 8,501 medical department. These allotments, however, include the Philippine constabulary which is not embraced in the 150,000 figure.

William Scofield, of No. 649 Wilson avenue, had his left arm badly burned this morning about 9 o'clock when a gasoline torch with which he was generating a blow torch exploded. The accident happened at the Niles Water Filter company, No. 180 north Main street.

DELVING INTO ARBUCKLE CASE

him and any man or woman who attempts to evade or misrepresent the details of the Arbuckle party into far as the liquor-end of it is concerned will be prosecuted on charges of perjury." was the statement of McCormack. Officials were much concerned, today, over charges that they were in reaching a decision on what charge Arbuckle will be prosecuted.

"If the witnesses in this case are being tampered with, all the members of the district attorney's staff will be used to run the party down," District Attorney Brady declared.

"I am more interested in seeing that money does not influence anyone connected with the case than I am in convicting Arbuckle. A crime has been committed and Arbuckle stands charged with it. He is to be tried on the merits of the case and I do not propose that money should be allowed to influence a single person connected with the case. The matter will be investigated thoroughly," he said.

SOCIETY

The J. J. club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Anna Knapp, of east Church street. Mrs. Alice Ruta was elected president and Mrs. Dora Van Gordon, secretary.

On the island of Jersey there is a very curious but pretty marriage custom. As soon as the ceremony is over, and when the happy couple are entering into occupation of their house, the large granite slab over the porch is inscribed with the initials of the bride and bridegroom, and between the two a rough representation of two hearts is entwined, the whole thus forming a unique marriage certificate for all the world to see.

CITY IN BRIEF

Taken to Penitentiary.—Thomas Aldrich, who entered a plea of guilty Monday in the common pleas court to an indictment charging him with larceny, yesterday was taken to the Ohio State penitentiary at Columbus. Aldrich was indicted for stealing chickens valued at $99 and was sentenced to a minimum of one year in the penitentiary.

A daughter was born Wednesday night to Mr. and Mrs. James Bollinger, of east George street.

SMALL-TOWN STUFF

[BY ROBERT QUINN.]

CLOTHES

Clothes are form-fitting drapery designed to cover the human body. They are made of cotton, silk and all-wool. The "all" in all-wool is an abbreviation of "alleged."

Men are judged by the clothes they wear, and women are judged by the clothes they don't wear. If a man is three months behind with the installations on the piano and doesn't know where the next gallon of gasoline is coming from, he wears glorious raiment that suggests private yacht and a butler and a pre-Volstead cellar. This is known as keeping up a front. It gets one past the office boy, and wins the respect of business men, who are always glad to hand money to a man who doesn't appear to need it.

The only men who can afford to dress in the manner affected by hobos are those who have fallen so low that they can not hope to win the respect of the world, and those who have climbed so high, that they can request the world to chase itself.

In the old days, when war was a game for gentlemen, the officers wore clothes that distinguished them from the privates. Frequently this was the only way by which you could tell they were gentlemen. But the enemy developed a nasty habit of using officers for target practice, thus requiring the appointment of mere men from the ranks to fill the gaps. This threatened to spoil a perfectly good caste system, and the nations hastened to clothe officers in less glorious raiment. Now it is difficult to tell the rank of a soldier except by his proximity to the firing line. The only gaudy uniforms now in captivity are reserved for lodge paraders.

Savages do not wear any clothes. This makes it more difficult to understand why they are savage. A few years ago civilized men were savage when required to hook their wives up the back, but the gowns their wives wear now don't have any backs.

The word gown covers a variety of garments—fact it covers considerably more than the gowns do. The difference between a gown and a dress is usually about two yards, and the less a gown covers the more it costs.

An infant's clothes in hot weather consist of a one-piece garment held in place with a safety pin. The bathing girl's clothes consist of a one-piece garment held within bounds by certain beach regulations.

When a man lived in a cave and wore no clothes, he had hair on his body and needed only to clip himself to be prepared for summer. Clothes banished his hair and left him exposed to the elements, but if present styles continue he may in the course of time regain the foliage.

THE DREAMER

Uncle Gus glanced through the patent medicine circular that had arrived in his morning mail, tore it into minute fragments, and settled more comfortably in his chair. "The only thing that keeps the patent medicine business from being profitable," said he, "is the high price of a bottle and corks. Folks take too much medicine. It's a wonder to me they ain't all dead. I sometimes think if I was a doctor I'd be different from most of 'em, from most of 'em, but I reckon not. If I was a doctor, I'd have a livin' out of the public is to give the public what it wants."

"If a man was to send for me and I was to examine him and see he didn't need nothin' except maybe a dose of soda, I wouldn't tell him so. If I did, he'd call me a old quack and send for a feller that knowed his business. When a man is sick, he likes to think he's got a regular man-size affliction. To suggest a dose of soda would seem like a insult. I wouldn't do it. I'd feel his pulse, and look at his tongue, and then I'd say somethin' about his innards, usin' the Latin words for his stomach, liver and lights; and when I give him a dose of soda out of my own bag, he'd sit well and think me a darned good doctor."

"When folks get sick, they don't want advice, they want medicine—somethin' that tastes nasty and costs money. Maybe they don't need it. Maybe they'd be better off without it. But if the doctor don't give 'em somethin' they'll buy patent medicines and maybe spoil their insides. Ther' ought to have somethin' harmless and bitter to keep 'em pacified."

Deacon Hardtop rented the old Sprague place to Joe Seares last year. Joe repaired the house and fixed the place up, and this year the Deacon told Joe that the repairs had made the place more valuable and he would have to charge more rent for it.

AUNT HET

"A woman has pains in her back that doctors can't cure, but if doctors was females they could at least sympathize."

workers sweat. Workers enow sweating, for when their garments are saturated, each breeze that blows seems a breath out of the North. Loafers do not enjoy perspiring, the practice seems vulgar and altogether out of keeping with their refined tastes.

When a nation is young and vigorous, its people are excellent sweaters. They sweat early and often and brag about the amount of work they can do. As a result, they become a great people. Unfortunately, however, the world has not yet seen a people that could stand prospering. Just when a people is in a fair way to break all established records, it decides that sweat isn't a nice word to use in polite society, and begins to say perspiration instead. When this occurs, calloused hands appear from the land; people talk about the servant problem; some body starts a line of talk "about the masses," and Lo! the land is ripe for plucking by some vigorous people that has not yet developed the cultured sweat-head.

Man is doomed to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. The individual may dodge this service, just as individuals dodge military drafts and taxes; but so long as mankind clings to the habit of eating, a certain amount of sweating must be done by somebody. In the present imperfect state of civilization, the loafer is privileged to eat; but in the world becomes entirely civilized, men will realize that the privilege of living imposes an obligation to render service—that no man can ever his wealth, has a right to eat, he will not work; and when the happy day arrives, those who sleep loaf, whether they be unwashed or perfumed, will be as empty as the equator as they are above the clouds.

"If I was a doctor, I'd be so dignified folks would take me for a butler or something like that, and I wouldn't never use a word with less than four syllables except by accident. I wouldn't give a whole lot of real medicine, maybe; but what I did give would have a Latin name so long I couldn't scarcely sit it on the prescription blank."

DISSOLUTION OF MARION
BUICK COMPANY SOUGHT

Assets of $127,519.23. Liabilities of $64,948.58.

OWNERS ARE SAID TO QUARREL OVER SELVES

Even Go So Far As To Threaten
To Kill One Another,
Petition Recites.

Suit for dissolution of the Marion Buick company and appointment of a receiver of the corporation, on the ground that the property of the company has been reduced by losses and the stockholders are quarreling over the management and threatening the lives of one another, was filed in the common pleas court this morning by David E. Kirus, of Green Camp, and J. Leonard Price, Marion, who set up that they represent not less than one-third of the capital stock of the company. The petition was filed through Justice, Young & Mouser. Assets of the company are listed as $127,519.23 and liabilities at approximately $64,948.58.

Dissolution of the company is desired by the plaintiffs, the petition states, because they deem it to be in the interests of the stockholders for the reason that the stock property and effects of the corporation have been so far reduced by losses brought about by business conditions generally, that they do not afford a reasonable security to those who deal with it.

Threatening One Another.
Charges that stockholders and directors are quarreling over the management of the company, threatening to kill each other, sue each other, refusing to attend directors' meetings which are necessary to the conduct of the business of the company and threatening to carry away the appropriate property of the petition. The petitioners also charge that creditors are threatening to sue directors and stockholders of the company in their industrial capacities and sell the assets to pay claims due from the company to the directors and stockholders, thereby jeopardizing the entire business of the corporation.

It is further set up that the objects of the corporation are practically abandoned and their accomplishment is impracticable because of these facts. The plaintiffs ask that the court require all persons interested in the company to show cause, if any they have why the corporation should not be dissolved, that a receiver be appointed and the company dissolved.

Attached to the petition is an inventory purporting to be a true statement of the property of the company. List of its stockholders and a statement of all incumbrances.
This inventory places the value of the lots, garage and building at No.
217-235 east Center street, and by 132 feet, at $60,000, and other property, including new and used cars, parts, accessories, equipment and notes, valued at $67,519.23.

Listing of stock.
Stock of the company is listed as 850 shares of common stock, valued at $100 a share, fully paid. The amounts held by stockholders are given as J. L. Price, Marion, 400 shares, $40,000; David E. Kirus, Green Camp, 100 shares, $10,000;
Fred E. Guthrie, Marion, 100 shares,
$10,000; C. G. Lord, Marion, 200 shares, $20,000; and Earl Johnson,
Marion, 100 shares, $10,000.

Incumbrances are listed as including a note for $29,000 held by the National Building & Loan company, one for $12,338, held by the Marion National bank; one for $16,000, held by the National City Bank and Trust company, and notes to J. L. Price amounting to $6, $70.58. Accounts payable include $400 due Frank Knapp for insurance, $240 for income tax and an unknown amount due Ernst & Ernst, Toledo, for an audit of the company's books.

CHARTER PRESENTED TO KADGAR GROTTA

Marked by Beautiful and Impressive Ceremony Yesterday.

COLUMBUS DELEGATION COMES HERE FOR EVENT

Notables of the Order Are in Attendance—News of the Local Lodges.

Kadgar Grotto officially received its charter and its officers were installed in a beautiful and impressive ceremony conducted by Archibald C. Huston, of Columbus, past grand monarch of the supreme grotto of the United States Wednesday afternoon in the Masonic temple.

Approximately 200 members of Kadgar met at the temple and headed by thirty members of the grotto, marched to the union depot to meet Mr. Huston and Scott Krauss, monarch of Ashbur Grotto, Columbus, who assisted in the ceremony. The procession moved from the temple past on Church street to State street north to Center and west to the union depot. Mr. Huston and Mr. Krauss arrived on the Hocking Valley train at 4 o'clock and were escorted to the temple by the local members. Returning they came east on Church street to Prospect north to Center street, east to State street, south to Church street, south to Church street and west to the temple. The ceremonies began immediately upon their arrival.

A six-o'clock dinner followed the work and addresses were delivered by Mr. Huston, Mr. Krauss and Byron Wilson, monarch of Kadgar Grotto. Mr. Huston was presented with a set of solid gold cuff links on behalf of Kadgar. Members of the Eastern Star served the dinner and a smoker followed. Messrs. Huston and Krauss returned to Columbus in the evening, Hocking Valley train.

Arrangements have been made for the local grotto to take a delegation of 200, including the band and patrol to Columbus October 31 for a ceremonial there. There the delegation will leave on a special Columbus, Delaware & Marion Interurban car. The Kadgar ceremonial will be held some time in October.

Officers of Kadgar Grotto are Byron E. Wilson, monarch, G. W. Jakeway, chief justice, J. H. Eynon, master of ceremonies, Roy H. Wadell, secretary, Harry J. Merchant, treasurer, Louis F. Baile, venerable prophet, Effie Marshall, marshal, and Roy Diehl, sentinel.

Meeting of the Eagles. Two applications for membership were received at a largely-attended meeting of the Eagles Wednesday night, and plans were made for working the degree next Wednesday night. The report of the auditing committee was received and a report was also made on the new by-laws as were adopted at the grand convention.

Boys' Journey Lodge. Sojourners' lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, met at the Masonic temple, Wednesday evening, and conferred the entered apprentice degree on a class of candidates.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE FOR COUNTRY CLUB

It is inaugurated today by Enthusiastic Boosters.

The two-day membership drive of the Marion Country club was started today. The by-laws of the club limit the membership to 300 and as the club now has a membership of 256, it is hoped that the 300 mark can be reached by Friday night.

Every effort is being put forth by the organization to have its membership reach the top-notch mark as soon as possible, so as to enable the club to close up its financial affairs and memberships and make plans for next summer.

The club has one of the most attractively-situated plots of ground in the county, within easy access of the city, both by road and car line. It has a fine clubhouse, roomy and comfortable to the last word. Not only do the members have access to the privileges of the home and its parks and grounds, but in a sense it is a "family" home, where the men can take their families and friends for an afternoon or evening's pleasure and where meals and entertainment can be enjoyed.

The club home has become a very popular place since its opening a few weeks ago for pleasant little social gatherings in the nature of luncheons, dinners and card parties. The lounge room has a splendid floor for dancing and the bar room when cleared gives ample space for many couples to be on the floor at one time.

Excellent meals are served by the club steward each day and special attention is paid to parties, whether they be small or large. No detail is overlooked to make the party most satisfactory and those who have availed themselves of the opportunities offered at the clubhouse for these little social gatherings have been more than pleased with the service given them.

GAS SHUT OFF IN MARION ALL OVER TOWN TODAY

From 12 O'Clock Noon to 5 P. M. This Afternoon.

GAS WILL ALSO BE SHUT OFF ON SUNDAY

Gas Company Officials Announce Supply Will Not Be Turned Off Friday.

Marion was without gas this afternoon, the Marion Gas company having shut off the supply at noon today for the purpose of repairing and replacing the main between Marion and Mt. Gilead. Announcement was made that the supply would be turned on again this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Original plans to shut off the gas from noon until 6 o'clock tomorrow, as well as today, have been changed, the company having announced that the gas will not be turned off on Friday.

It is understood that arrangements have been made to turn off the gas part of the day Sunday and thereby eliminate the necessity of shutting it off tomorrow.

The officials of the gas company have stated that announcements will be made in the daily papers of the dates when the gas will be turned off.

Manager Mickley announced today that the gas would be shut off Sunday from 5 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Tuesday from 12 o'clock noon to 5 p. m. and Thursday from 12 o'clock noon to 5 p. m.

Boy Nicer Arrested—Claiming that he was on his way to Chicago to find his brother, that he lived in Alabama and had baked all the way here, Samuel Morgan, aged fourteen years and six months, was arrested Tuesday by Erie special agent, D. J. Ford, and turned over to local juvenile authorities. When questioned as to whether or not he had run away from home, the youth replied, "I didn't." The boy was arrested when he applied for work at the roundhouse stating that he was on the way to see his brother, who lived in a town near Chicago. He stated that he had baked the entire distance and would have gotten there all right, if he had not been robbed by two negroes of his entire wealth which amounted to seven dollars. He planned to work here and save until able to continue his trip. Authorities here noted the boy's parents in Birmingham, Alabama.

Frank and Eleanor Durr, of east Church street, left Wednesday for college. Miss Durr went to Delaware, where she is a junior this year at the Ohio Wesleyan university. Mr. Durr, who is a member of the class of 1921 of the Harding High school, went to Westerville to enter Otterbein college.

HOW WOMEN AVOID SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Some Are Extremely Necessary, Others May Not Be

Every Woman Should Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Trial First

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 624 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Vermont woman adds her testimony to the long line of these fortunate women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After it had been decided an operation was necessary:

Burlington, Vt.—"I suffered with female trouble, and had a number of doctors who said that I would never be any better until I had an operation. I was so bad I could hardly walk across the floor and could not do a thing. My sister-in-law induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it certainly has helped me wonderfully. I keep house and do my work and have a small child. I have recommended Vegetable Compound to a number of my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. H. R. SHARON, Apple Tree Point Farm, Burlington, Vt.

In hospitals are many women who are there for surgical operations, and there is nothing a woman dreams more than the thought of an operation, and the long weary months of recovery and restoration to strength if it is successful. It is very true that female troubles may through neglect reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but most of the common ailments of women are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. In fact, many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Abnormal Peculiarities to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Daily Proverb—"Keep yourself from opportunities and God will keep you from sin."

"A young man's sin, unlike Opportunity," says an exchange, "will come back the next day if they find him out." "If they find him out!" That's 'em to do that every time. They are the real things when it comes to sinning.

Still, pause and think! Were those absolutely put out of business, what would there be to preserve the lives of our people till they became centenarians and gave the medical testimonials?

As a rule, the people who are forever talking about the "good old times," would no sooner give up a single up-to-date convenience in their home than they would a leg.

Bolshism sounded all right to Emma Goldman in theory, but she has discovered that it affords a mighty indifferent substitute for a square meal.

The concrete ship was a great proposition in theory, but like many other theories it does not work out well in practice.

A paragraph in an esteemed exchange says there are 26,000,000 widows in India. Some people get awfully careless in the use of figures, possibly going on the theory that they stand for nothing.

One is bound to wonder if the people who ride bicycles without lights in the night season, in violation of a city ordinance, realize just what their legal standing would be were they hit by an automobile driven in compliance with all legal requirements. It has been years since we have seen a bicycle carrying a light.

OPTIMISM OF THE IMMIGRATION.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

It has been cheering up to the point of awakening optimism to read within the last week reports of public talks made by President Harding and members of the cabinet. They emphasize visions of returning normalcy and of approach of better times.

Such assertions in themselves may not be sufficient to quicken the confidence of the people of the country that such a change of economic conditions is in progress. Accompanied as they are by statements of accomplishments, however, they are strengthened in importance and weighted with an emphasis that encourages conviction.

The president's review of his administration is especially effective. Directing attention to the undisputed fact that the work of the administration was taken up in strenuous times, he points to a score of administrative and legislative conclusions, any of which, he asserts, would have been applauded as an adequate mark for a year's accomplishment in normal times. Among these are various financing measures affecting productive industries, the budget system and the establishment of peace with all the world.

What will carry most assurance to the people, however, is the cooperation of government departments in measures of economy, which the president predicts will make it possible "during the next year to cover back into the treasury so large a sum that the aggregate of taxation may be reduced to $3,500,000,000 a year."

He presents a vision of still greater saving through an international disarmament program and its pledge of world peace. In view of the fact that "half the present expenditures of the government arise from wars of the past."

He points to the enviable position of the United States among the nations of the world of being able to finance its enormous requirements without a deficit. Almost without exception ours is the only government that has been able to balance its revenues and expenditures.

At the same time the president points to pending matters of great importance demanding the attention of congress—the tariff and tax bills, the railroad funding bill and the bill for funding the debts of foreign governments so that interest at least may be received on those loans. All of these he views as bearing directly on the future of the country and the return of normalcy.

His confidence in the accomplishment of all is broadly optimistic, a confidence shared by all his cabinet and worthy the efforts of all citizens to entertain.

THE CAMELS ARE COMING

MENACE SEEN IN CHUCK HOLES.

In some sections of the city there are bad places in the streets that ought to be repaired. Whoever may be responsible for these bad places—whether it be the Gas company, the Water company or any public service corporation, or private contractor—the city would be held liable in case of accident.

There is a particularly bad hole in the paving on Sharpless court. It has been there for many months. A firm of plumbing contractors is blamed for opening the paving to do some pipe work and never replacing it in proper condition. This is cited as a sample.

There ought to be some systematic way for the repair of such places. They are dangerous to life and limb.

The trouble with a lot of devices to dim headlights is that the dimming is too much along theoretical lines and not enough along practical.

There are said to be 25,000 income tax delinquents, and we are willing to bet a Northern Spy against a Ben Davis that there isn't a hard-working spreader of joy and sunshine in paragraphs among 'em. "There's a reason."

ASKING WHAT WE REFUSE.

The welfare of the United States demands that we place restrictions on immigration. The vast number of foreigners already here must be assimilated, the economic situation must become more favorable, before we can let aliens flock into the country as they did before the war. And yet we raise the barrier reluctantly, as we picture the bitter disappointment of Europeans—people of the same stock as our own ancestors—who had looked to America as the land of opportunity, the land of refuge from the conditions which have brought them misery in the old world, and are now denied entrance.

It is with satisfaction that one notes another way for these unhappy Europeans to escape from their unfortunate native countries and begin life anew with a fair chance of prospering, and certainly with an excellent prospect of improving the lot of their children. Canada wants the immigrants which we are turning away.

An official of the Canadian Pacific railway, recognized as an authority on immigration and colonization, asserts that our ban on immigration will be a blessing to our northern neighbor, as she is in much the same position as was the United States at the beginning of the nineteenth century, having great undeveloped farm areas in need of settlers to grow foodstuffs for the use of the urban people and provide traffic for the transportation systems, and expects the Europeans we are turning away to go to Canada instead.

Here is an opportunity then for worthy aliens refused admission into the United States to escape disappointment and at the same time to contribute to the development of a comparatively new country.

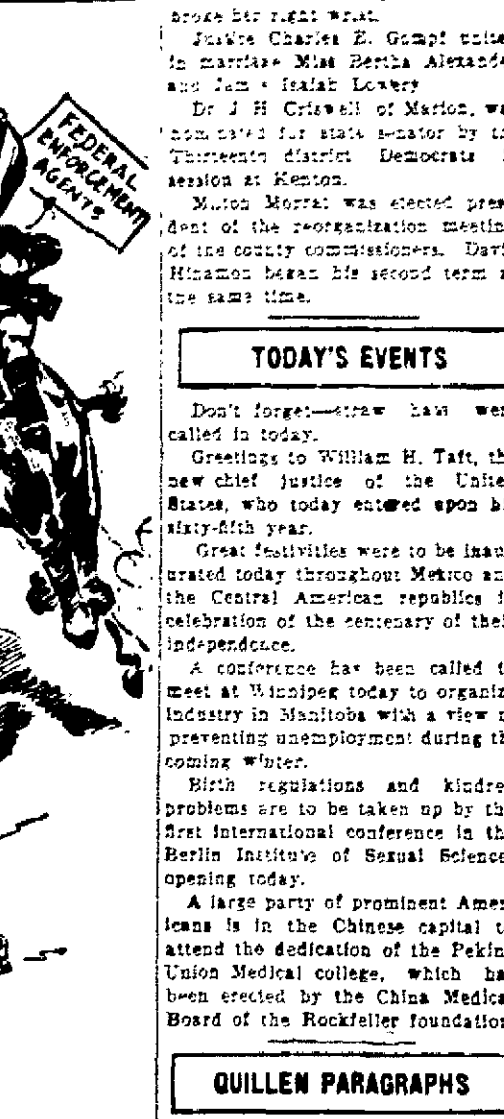

THE SAME OLD STORY.

Unlike most Europeans who spend a brief time in America, Professor Einstein has not written a book of his impressions, but he has given an interview to a Rotterdam newspaper in which he gives his views of Americans. He follows the usual line and his remarks are not flattering to our vanity. He found "exaggerated enthusiasm" for himself and his work, which he considers a "genuine and peculiarly American phenomenon." He also found us "tremendously bored."

"The men interest themselves in nothing except work; ... as for the rest of the men they are nothing but little play-dogs of the women who spend their money in a reckless manner and fill themselves in a mist of extravagance."

Professor Einstein may be a genius in delving into the inscrutable. However, his uncompromising remarks about us, after the reception given him, would indicate that he is afflicted with the same boresickness that has been manifested by so many Europeans who have come over here and, having filled their pockets with American money, have come back home to make sport of us. Good taste and courtesy would have suppressed the expression of his opinions. Yet we are really to blame. So long as Americans continue to be easy they will do it. So why worry?

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By Dr. James Ball Naylor.]

PSHAW, MR. SHAW!
You view no Yankee virtues,
But you find each Yankee law;
You think that we are dangerous—
Pshaw, pshaw now, Bernard Shaw!

George Bernard Shaw, the English dramatist and critic, is a governmental Glendonite, a social iconoclast.
He has made himself such—intentionally and deliberately.
Existing things are all wrong, Mr. Shaw holds; he would destroy them.
Existing conditions should be changed; and he would change them.

He grabs his pen—and scribbles furiously.
He lifts his voice—and rants and raves.
He is really seeking to accomplish something? Yes, indeed!

Seeking to direct attention toward himself—and to hold it there.
Mr. Shaw is a poseur; in fact, he is the prince of modern poseurs.
Also, he's a mouthing mountebank.
He tilts at the windmills of conventionality; and desires that the world admire.
He walks the slack wire of immorality; and expects the world to applaud.
He dives into the duck pond of obscenity; and wants the world to approve.

He practices all the wiles and arts of literary legerdemain; and takes his toll from the world's fools.
Is Mr. Shaw sincere about anything?
It is doubtful—very doubtful.
He works, chiefly, through and by indirection. He wriggles, forth and wriggles back.
Leaving people still in doubt.
Whether the snake made the track—
Was going in or coming out.

But we can readily forgive Mr. Shaw; he's amusing.
Having challenged and insulted about everybody and everything in England and Europe, Mr. Shaw now turns his attention to the United States. Asked by the editor of the Nation if he did not intend to visit America, he replied:
"If I were dependent upon martyrdom for a reputation, which happily I am not, I could go to Ireland. It is a less dangerous place; but, then, the voyage is shorter and much cheaper. I have no intention of going to prison with Debs, or taking my wife in Texas where the Ku Klux Klan snatches white women from out hotel verandas and tars and feathers them. You are right in your impression that a number of persons are urging me to come to the United States. But why on earth do you call them my friends?"

These "persons" who have requested Mr. Shaw to visit the United States may or may not be his friends; but, dead sure, they're not friends of the United States.
But Mr. Shaw would be in no danger in America. We are charitable toward the mentally incapacitated. And so far as putting him in prison with Eugene Debs—well, we have little use for Debs, but we wouldn't put upon him the cruel and unusual punishment of incarcerating him with George Bernard Shaw.

Maybe one reason the senate refused to call him a medicine was because it isn't—Kansas City Star.
Beer a medicine? I should say not! Why, medicine's nasty stuff.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Illustrations by Edmund

The leaves are turning yellow on the trees and when a fella goes in swimmin' he gets all goose plumpish, but when he gets out on the bank and lays in the sand he feels good. My father said to my mother while I was feeding my face this morning that he supposed he would have to get me a new pair of shoes before school starts and she said that I would be going barefooted for quite a while yet, and he looked like he was glad of it. He said he is always buying something for me, and I would like to know what it is. I bet he wishes I was born like a snake without any feet to wear shoes on and then he would not have to buy me any shoes. But I bet he would have to buy me a new shirt every day because I would wear it out crawling to school on my stomach. It is hard for a fella to please his father. It a fella's father was as good to a fella as a dog is a fella would want to have about 20 fathers, but when a fella's father is mean and grouchy he wishes he had less than one, and there ain't anything less than one till a fella gets old enough to study fractions.

We all went to the slaughter house today to see if we could get any bladders but the fella that used to give them to us ain't working there any more and the man we asked said if we didn't like out of there he would put us in the cooler and sell us for veal. We wanted to see them kill a cow but he chased us with a long knife. I bet his knife would not have been any good if I had told Jubilee to go and get him. Then we went to the fire engine house and wished the school house would burn and we could see the fire department go to it, but nothing happened so we went swimming and stayed in till our lips got purple and Hopper who is not so very strong did not stay in that long. Hopper is not very strong but he don't have to be very strong to beat a fella with a crutch so nobody picks on him.

Jubilee don't mind the cold water and he went in after sticks as much as ever, and I was the only one that swam across and slid down the slides. I took my mother a lot of red and yellow maple leaves and she said to keep out of the house with that rubbish before I got in, so then I threw them away and told her they was for her, and she poked me on my head. She seems to forget sometimes that she owes me a quarter. If I owed anyone a quarter I would be polite to them a quarter's worth or I would pay them. I bet when it gets cold I will have the same old quilt with a hole in it.

I took my mother a lot of red and yellow maple leaves and she said to keep out of the house with that rubbish before I even got in.

don't care. It will make me tuff. The bunch come over after supper but my father told them they had better run along so I could get lots of sleep and be ready when school opened up. I guess he don't want any of us to forget school and be happy for a minute. I went to bed.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommend Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and blast right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

NURSE ENDORSES FAMOUS NERVE-WORTH

Says That It Does All That Is Claimed For It, Quiets the Nerves, Aids Digestion, and Produces Restful Sleep.

"I recommend Nerve-Worth because of the fact that it certainly does benefit me when I become nervous and tired out after a long term of nursing." Thus wrote Claire Childers, a Parkersburg, W. Va., nurse some time ago, and she continued, "In my business it becomes necessary to lose lots of sleep, and requires many hours of constant watching, which wears on the nerves. Nerve-Worth does all that you claim for it. It quiets the nerves, aids digestion, and produces restful sleep." The above is an endorsement from a woman whose profession constantly throws her in contact with medicines and their uses, and various kinds of sickness. A nurse does not recommend anything that is not good, and their professional knowledge makes their recommendation worth while. Nothing needs to be added to the above statement, as it tells fully what Nerve-Worth does. If you suffer from nervousness, sleeplessness, stomach trouble or their attending ills, give this famous preparation a trial, and if your first trial bottle does not prove that it is helping you, your money will be refunded. You will really come to Nerve-Worth for real results, so why not start now? Be sure to get the genuine Nerve-Worth in the large, round bottle. Price, $1.00 plus tax. ## LA SALLE and the City of his Dreams

A rustle of prairie grass—a loud report—the treacherous bullet of a jealous follower, and La Salle, first European to descend the Mississippi to its mouth, lay dead.

He had raised the standards of France, he had named the region Louisiana, he had made it inevitable that the future New Orleans should be French.

As you wander among fascinating gardens or peep into picturesque patios; as you stop awestruck before the Cathedral St. Louis or explore the quaint ways and by-ways of the Rue Royal—as you enjoy all the delights of the old French Quarter in modern New Orleans, you will give thanks that the martyred La Salle achieved his purpose and that the countless beauties of the Sunset Route include the charm of this "Gateway to the Golden Southwest."

PAGE DAIRY TEAM WILL BE HERE SUNDAY

When It Will Meet the Marion Daily Stars.

The Page Dairy baseball team of Toledo, which was defeated by the Marion Daily Stars in a hard battle earlier in the season, will come for a return game with the locals at Lincoln park, Sunday. The Toledo team will be strengthened with a view to defeating the locals and the Marion team will also have new strength to bolster up the outfit. The local management has experimented some in an effort to round out the club to the strength of the early part of the season, but failing in the effort will probably annex one of the old timers to the club and it will look very much like the team of last season. With the fans lined up for the locals they expect to give their best efforts and be able to finish the season with a clean record.
